

SEPARATION AND REUNION FORUM (SRF)

“Younger Boys Development Project”

Keynote Speaker: Trefor Lloyd

Saturday 26 June 2010

Trefor Lloyd has been involved in developing programmes for boys and young men since 1982. Currently, his work includes delivering programmes for boys in Primary School teaching conflict resolution skills; and working as a Research Consultant to the Centre for Young Men's Studies at Ulster University.

Aim of the Seminar - to discuss how young boys (up to age 5) who are not 'school ready' might be prepared for school. This programme works with mothers within families and includes the use of reflective and practical resources to enable mothers to gain knowledge which might help them to understand their boys development and enable achievement, along with implementing boundaries, discipline and motivation in their children.
